Provides technical and administrative management of projects conducted by in house and or contracted technical personnel involved in work associated with remedial investigations, feasibility studies, and designs for remediation of hazardous, toxic, and radiological waste problems for assigned projects. Evaluates, advises on, and solves complex technical project management problems which involve threats to safety and health, difficult or unusual planning, scheduling, negotiation and coordination, as well as less complex project management assignments. Work requires an understanding of a broad range of scientific and engineering disciplines including chemistry, chemical engineering, geotechnical engineering, civil engineering, geology, environmental engineering, hydrogeology, toxicology, biology, and structural engineering as well as an intimate knowledge of administrative management of the technically related aspects of funds control, contract analyses, contract negotiation, contract administration, and project scheduling. Solves, advises on, or evaluates complex problems associated with the project management of the technical aspects of HTRW projects. Typical problems include determining project strategy when the user or sponsor needs dictate that the project be completed in an inordinately short time frame and/or funding is not sufficient to allow the use of the normal design process; negotiating and coordinating with the user or sponsor on initial and subsequent scopes of work and design direction when user or sponsor demands, outside authorities, and/or funding constraints require numerous changes; developing the scopes of work, preparing the government estimates, and developing contract selection criteria for technically difficult HTRW related projects in situations where the nature of the contaminants may be unknown, or the cleanup techniques may have never before been applied; representing the Government position in complex negotiations with contractors where there is often a disagreement relative to issues of cost or scope; evaluating project direction (i.e., continue, stop, or alter course) when major issues are raised on cost, design direction, user or sponsor satisfaction and/or construction feasibility; and other similar responsibilities. Solves, advises on, or evaluates less complex technical related project management problems where standard methods, techniques, or solutions exist and their limited modification or adaptation is required. Prepares special studies that involve limited or no unusual planning, scheduling, negotiation and coordination. Determines appropriate use of contracts or in house personnel. Secures the services of other divisions, branches, or sections of the Baltimore District or arranges to have the necessary work performed by private concerns under contract, bearing the responsibility for assuring proper performance. Develops the scope of work for the project, determines milestone dates when not prescribed by others, and assures that all review comments are addressed. Chairs meetings with contractors, users, sponsors, outside reviewers, representatives of base commanders, or others to insure that there is a full understanding of the scope of work for the technical aspects of the project, to assure that the proposed courses of action are the most efficient ones and are not encumbered by unnecessary requirements, to develop the programmed amount, to develop the appropriate course of action if the programmed amount will be exceeded, and/or to identify accountability for and determine the resolution of problems caused by design errors or omissions. Controls the expenditure of funds by the in-house staff and tracks all costs and undelivered orders of each project comparing current charges and obligations with actual work completed. Alerts supervisor of possible overruns, participates in the resolution of the overruns, and if necessary, determines the justification for obtaining additional funds.

Qualification Requirements:

BASIC REQUIREMENTS for General Engineer (0801):

Applicants must possess the following at the time of filing:

The primary method of qualifying for professional engineering positions is through successful completion of a 4-year professional engineering curriculum (not engineering technology) leading to a bachelor's or higher degree in engineering in an accredited college or university. To be acceptable, the curriculum must:

- Be in a school of engineering with at least one curriculum accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET) as a professional engineering curriculum; or
- Include differential and integral calculus and courses (more advanced than first year science or engineering) in five of the seven areas of engineering science or physics:

- (1) statics, dynamics;
- (2) strength of materials (stress-strain relationships);
- (3) fluid mechanics, hydraulics;
- (4) thermodynamics;
- (5) electrical fields and circuits;
- (6) nature and properties of materials (relating particle and aggregate structure of properties);
- (7) any other comparable area of fundamental engineering science or physics, such as optics, heat transfer, soil mechanics, or electronics.

2. Alternative Method of Meeting Basic Requirements:

If you do not meet the basic engineering requirements above, you may qualify if you have an equivalent combination of experience and education that meets the requirements listed below.

Candidates may substitute for the basic requirement of at least 4 years of college-level education, training and/or technical experience that furnished (1) a thorough knowledge of the physical and mathematical sciences underlying professional engineering and (2) a good understanding, both theoretical and practical of the branches of engineering. This knowledge and understanding must be equivalent to that provided by a full 4-year professional engineering curriculum with respect to (a) knowledge, skills, and abilities required of the position to be filled; and (b) the ability to develop and progress in a career as a professional engineer in the specialty field. The adequacy of such background must be demonstrated by one of the following:

Professional Registration: Current registration as a professional engineer in any state, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico or Guam. Absent other means of qualifying for engineering positions, those candidates who achieved such registration by means other than a written test (for example, state grandfather or eminence provisions) are eligible only for positions that are within or closely related to the specialty field of the registration. For example, a candidate who attains registration through a State Board eminence, provision as manufacturing engineer typically would be eligible for manufacturing engineering positions.

Written Test: Evidence of having successfully passed the Engineer-in-Training (EIT) examination or the written test required for professional registration which is administered by the Boards of Engineering Examiners in the various states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and Guam.

Candidates who pass the EIT examination and complete all the requirements for bachelors degree in engineering technology (BET) that: (a) included 60 semester hours of courses in physical, mathematical and engineering sciences, and in engineering as listed in the basic requirements; or (b) was in an accredited college or in a program accredited by the Accreditation Board of Engineering and Technology (ABET) may be eligible for certain engineering positions at GS-05.

Because of the diversity in kind and quality of BET programs, graduates of the BET programs are required to complete at least one year of additional education or highly technical work experience of such nature as to provide reasonable assurance of the possession of the knowledge, skills, and abilities required for professional engineering competence. The adequacy of this background must be demonstrated by passing the EIT examination.

Specified Academic Courses: Successful completion in an accredited college or university of at least 60 semester hours of courses acceptable for credit towards a B.S. in professional engineering, in the physical, mathematical, and engineering sciences. These must have included the courses specified in the basic requirements above. The courses must also be fully acceptable towards meeting the requirements of a professional engineering curriculum as described in the basic requirements.

Related Curriculum: Successful completion in an accredited college of a full 4-year or longer related curriculum leading to a bachelors degree in engineer technology or in an appropriate professional field, for example, physics, chemistry, architecture, computer science (not computer programming), mathematics, hydrology, or geology, may be accepted in lieu of a degree in engineering provided you have at least one year of professional engineering experience which was acquired under professional engineering supervision and guidance.

Completion of Advanced Engineering Degree: Successful completion of an advanced degree in engineering which reflects the possession of the knowledge of the basic principles, concepts, and theories of professional engineering.

BASIC REQUIREMENTS for Physical Scientist (1301):

Degree: successful completion of a full 4-year course of study in an accredited college or university leading to a bachelor's or higher degree in physical science, engineering, or mathematics that included 24 semester hours in physical science and/or related engineering science such as mechanics, dynamics, properties of materials, and electronics -OR- Combination of education and experience -- education equivalent to one of the majors shown above that included 24 semester hours in physical science and/or related engineering science, plus appropriate experience or additional education related to the position.

IN ADDITION TO MEETING THE BASIC REQUIREMENTS, APPLICANTS MUST POSSESS THE FOLLOWING:

GS-11: 3 years of progressively higher-level directly related graduate education leading to a Ph.D. degree or Ph.D. or equivalent doctoral degree -OR- one year of specialized experience equivalent to at least the GS-09 grade level.

GS-12: One year of specialized experience equivalent to at least the GS-11 grade level.

Specialized experience is experience which has equipped the applicant with the particular knowledge, skills and abilities to successfully perform the duties of the position and that is typically in or related to managing projects associated with remedial investigations, feasibility studies, and designs for remediation of hazardous, toxic, and radiological waste problems.

Selective Placement Factors/Knowledge Skills and Abilities (KSAs): KSAs not required. Applicants will be rated against Resumix Job Search Criteria.
